3.1 The quality of laws of Rwanda improved

3.1.1 Laws modernized taking into account Rwanda's cultural context

Following the repeal of all colonial laws through Law N° 020/2019 of 22/08/2019 repealing all legal instruments brought into force before the date of independence, RLRC embarked on analysis and research on priority areas/sectors, that require enactment of legislation to bridge gaps that may have been left behind by the repeal. The first area focused on was the civil domain where the research focused on the Civil Code Book II (Property law) and the Civil Code Book III related to obligations. Therefore, research on 14 laws relating to contracts, obligations and property was conducted and completed. Where research revealed that acts were still relevant in Rwanda's current cultural and social economic context, new draft laws were initiated in alignment with the research findings.

In addition to the above research on Civil Code Book II and III, research was conducted on Law N° 15/2004 of 12/6/2004 relating to evidence and its production. Upon completion of the research, a zero draft of the new law was prepared and made available for internal consultations, before next steps.

Other research and analysis were carried out on 6 draft laws transmitted to RLRC by different government institutions. At the same time, RLRC gave legal opinion on different subjects either on the initiative of the Commission or upon request by other government institutions.

Research was further carried out on effectiveness of public participation in law making process in Rwanda and recommendations on modalities for improvement were drawn.

Lastly, Consultations with stakeholders and end users on laws to be initiated or amended were carried out by sharing draft laws with relevant stakeholders for their views, and exchanging ideas through workshops prepared by different implementing institutions.

3.1.2 Laws of Rwanda revised

Update of the inventory of laws was done in areas of; administrative and civil law, criminal and judicial laws, business law, and international law. In this regard, 16 laws and 48 orders were inventoried in administrative and civil related laws, and 1 law and 6 orders were inventoried in criminal and judicial laws.

With regard to consolidation and codification of laws, the 2nd Edition of the Compendium of Judicial Laws was prepared and uploaded to RLRC Website. It comprises 19 legal instruments with 1051 pages.

In order to prune away obsolete and outdated legislation and provisions, and following the repeal of colonial laws (1885-1962) in 2019; a quick analysis was done for the post-independence period (1962-2004). Analysis findings indicate; 441 legal instruments which should be expressly repealed, 63 legal instruments which are still relevant and need to be maintained, 214 legal instruments which were expressly repealed, and 38 legal instruments which are pending for consultations with relevant institutions to decide on their relevance.

From 2017 /2018, RLRC has been implementing the Law Revision Project with the main goal to ease accessibility to laws in their most update form and to lay a comprehensive platform for law reform. By end June 2020, the level of implementation of the Law Revision Project was 75%.

Major achievements of the project included updating the taxonomy (arrangement of Laws in classifications and sub classifications based on areas of application or domains). Currently, the updated taxonomy is classified in 10 volumes and is uploaded to RLRC website: www.rlrc.gov.rw pending completion of the portal to host laws of Rwanda.

The project created Word versions of legal instruments from the originally published PDF formats. The exercise involved simultaneous editing and proofreading to ensure that the legal instruments are secured in their originality. 865 domestic laws were converted from PDF to Word format and inserted in the taxonomy.

The project further carried out the activity of indexing that involved the identification of key words or frequently used words of legislation to facilitate searches by the users. For that, 47 legal instruments were indexed in 2019/2020.

3.1.3 Laws of Rwanda harmonized and/or approximated with international and regional legal instruments

RLRC, with the support of UNDP-Rwanda, accomplished a study on the harmonization of Rwanda laws with the UN Convention on Rights of Persons with disabilities (CRPD) and its Optional Protocol. The study identified areas that require amendments to existing laws or enacting of new legislation in order for Rwanda to fully comply with its obligations under the convention and its Optional Protocol.

Another study on harmonization of Rwandan laws with International Humanitarian Law (IHL), commissioned by Rwanda Law Reform Commission, was completed and recommendations thereof submitted to the Commission mainly to fill the gaps in the law on offences and penalties in general in relation to IHL.

3.2 Accessibility of laws of Rwanda ensured

3.2.1 Online repository

In order to resolve the issue of access to laws of Rwanda, RLRC in collaboration with the Judiciary and RISA contracted Lex Base Ltd for the development of an online portal to host the laws of Rwanda. Its development is expected to be completed by the end of 2021. Pending completion of the portal, a database of laws of Rwanda has been temporarily uploaded on RLRC website www.rlrc.gov.rw

3.2.2 Translation

A total 64 legal instruments comprising of 38 domestic and 26 international instruments ratified by Rwanda were translated in order to make them accessible in all the three official languages used in legislative drafting.

3.3 Support in legislative drafting and translation provided

As per its mandate, RLRC prepared draft bills or amendments of existing laws on its own initiative or upon request by public relevant institutions. It also examined draft bills initiated by other institutions before they were submitted to the Cabinet, contributed ideas on bills, and followed up bills under consideration in the Parliament.

With regard to draft laws initiated by other public institutions before submission to the Cabinet, RLRC examined 2 draft organic laws, 66 draft laws among which 36 draft laws ratifying various agreements to which Rwanda is a party. The Commission also examined and harmonized in language 32 draft Presidential Orders including 6 draft Presidential Orders ratifying various agreements, 15 Draft Prime Minister's Orders and 52 Draft Ministerial Orders.

The Commission checked and harmonized in languages 10 laws that were adopted by the Parliament, 196 Presidential Orders including, 72 Presidential Orders ratifying various agreements, 101 Prime Minister's Orders, 35 Ministerial Orders, 6 Regulations and 4 Instructions.

IV. CHALLENGES AND OPPORTUNITIES

4.1. Challenges

Despite the recorded achievements, RLRC encountered some challenges, which resulted in delays or failure to execute certain tasks.

- COVID-19 pandemic

Effects of COVID-19 global pandemic especially the lock down and closure of borders, affected some of the planned activities such as the Web portal development implemented by Lex Base (a firm based in France. Lex Base had scheduled a field visit in Kigali in April 2020 to demonstrate the portal's interface and agree on some particularities after physical examination of a number of aspects. However, due to closure of borders and the lockdown, the visit was postponed to the second week of September 2020.

Another planned activity negatively affected by COVID-19 was the Training of Legal Advisors, Legal Officers and RLRC Legal Personnel on legislative drafting. The training had been planned on 18-19/03/2020 and 25-26/03/2020 and participants invited. However, due to measures to prevent the spreading of COVID-19, the training did not take place.

- Insufficient budget

RLRC is mandated to carry out studies aimed at assessing laws in force and advising relevant institutions accordingly. Such studies usually involve consultancy services or staff field visits to gather opinions from the public. However, the budget allocated to the Commission, especially the recurrent non-wage budget was insufficient to allow large-scale studies.

- Freezing of recruitments

Due to the process of rationalization of public service that was approved by the Cabinet in July 2019, the Ministry of Public Service and Labour issued instructions freezing all recruitment processes in public institutions. The Commission was consequently not able to recruit new staff to fill the vacant positions as it had been planned and other positions that became vacant within the year 2019/2020.

4.2 Opportunities

RLRC benefited from the collaboration with and advocacy by its line ministry. Furthermore, the Commission enhanced the use of ICT especially in conducting virtual meetings.
